Profile

Md. Mahmudul Hasan (b. 1982) is a contemporary landscape painter working in watercolor and acrylic. His practice explores landscape as a space of memory, erosion, and transformation, with a particular focus on river systems, industrial shorelines, and transitional environments.

Originally trained in the social sciences and professionally engaged in the corporate sector, Hasan maintained a continuous relationship with drawing and painting before returning to an intensive studio practice. This return developed into a disciplined studio practice shaped by observation, structure, and reflection.
